The water from the springs is collected by 1200' of 2" wood pipe and 1410.9' of 4" wood pipe. At the end of this feed line the water [illegible] ties into a natural channel and runs about 470' into a concrete settling basin 6' wide and 16' long. This settling basin serves as the point of diversion and is the inlet to the main pipe line which is composed of 4" standard wrought iron pipe, 18,812' long. At points 32' and 8984' from the end of the line are located shut-off valves and 400' from the end of the line is located a flush-out valve. All pipe lines are 3' to 4' underground. The end of the main 4" iron pipe line above described joins the 8" cast iron Wendover pipe line in the State of Utah in the NE¼NW¼ Sec. 22, T.3 N.R. 19 W., S.L.B.& M. In this manner the water is conducted to storage tanks at Wendover, Utah located in the SW¼ Sec. 17, T. 3 N.R. 19 W., S.L.B.& M., where it is used for general locomotive and transportation purposes.
