This permit is issued for the conservation of water during the non-irrigating season and at such times as there is surplus and flood waters, and is subject to all prior rights on the stream system of which this source is a part. It is specifically understood and made a condition of this permit that, upon notification from the State Engineer that shortage of water exists, the diversion of water herein granted will be discontinued.

It is distinctly understood by the State Engineer and applicant that the purpose of this application is to store waters for the late irrigation season to be used upon lands now under irrigation and that the water granted in this permit is limited to use on such lands, the same being shown on cultural maps now on file in this office and supplemented by a proof of appropriation (No. 00571) showing claims for vested rights in and to the waters of this source. The applicant will be required, in making proof of application of water to beneficial use, to show upon what particular subdivisions of land the waters herein granted have been used.
