The Parman-Valerdi Co. purchased all of the water rights, ranc and range rights of the Wheeler outfit operating in northern Washoe and Humboldt Counties, which in turn was purchased by Wheeler in 190 from John O'Kane and said O'Kane ran sheep at this spring and used the range for many years prior to 1905. Wheeler operated under the name of Donnelly Land and Livestock Co. The only other party running sheep in this country at the time O'Kane was operating was Benito Aguirre and Co., which said company probably started about 1905. All of the rights of said company were also purchased by Wheeler in 1907
