(22) Remarks: To the best of affiant's information and belief the main ditch was constructed, diverting water in the SE¹/₄ of the SE¹/₂ of the said Sec. 2., some time prior to the year 1886; that during the said year 1886 your affiant became familiar with said irrigation system and since said time has personally observed same; that affiant has been reliabely informed that a man by the name of Gardner constructed said ditch.....

NOTE: THE ACREAGE SHOWN TO IRRIGATED BY THIS PROOF IS TO THE BEST OF AFFIANT'S KNOWLEDGE; THE ACCOMPANYING MAP SHOWS THE CORRECT ACREAGE UNDER CULTIVATION.....

NOTE: While the accompanying map shows this ditch to draw its supply from "GALLIGAN CREEK" yet the said Galligan Creek is only a part of Franklin River. Pole Creek is the main source of water supply for Franklin River, the waters of which are turned out above and find their way back into the main channel, through small draws and sloughs, and form, what is called below, Franklin River.
