To Whom it may concern:

I, William I. Tindall, a rancher, was born in Grasmere, Idaho on March 21, 1916. I presently operate ranches in Grasmere and Merritt Mountain areas. My Father was Chester Tindall and my Grandfather, William J. Tindall. My Grandfather came to Grasmere, Idaho area in 1885 and started in the sheep business. He purchased some two to three thousand sheep from Mr. O.F. Bacon. He told me that he grazed his sheep in the Spring, Summer, and Fall in a big circle, up Sheep Creek, Salmon Creek, Merritt Creek, Willis Creek, Rain Creek, Merritt Mountain, west and north through Indian Hay Meadows, down the Mary Creek area and back to Grasmere area for the winter. In about 1900 my Grandfather went out of the sheep business; that same year he and my father started in the cattle business. They continued to run their cattle in the same areas as my Grandfather had run his sheep.

My Grandfather and Father told me that at the same time that they started in the cattle business (1900), and a couple of years after that, people began to settle along Merritt and Sheep Creeks and the tributaries. The homesteaders began to irrigate from the same areas. Some were the McCray's, Turner's, Helms, Kunz's, Well's and Frank (Fatty) Barton.

In 1925, my Father, his brother, and relatives started buying some of the homesteads to protect their range.
